How can we make the roads safer?

Every year several thousand people are killed on the roads in Great Britain. Every year between one and two hundred thousand people are injured. These people are killed or injured in the road accidents.

There are rules to make the roads safe, but people don't always obey the rules. They are careless. If everyone obeys the rules, the roads will be much safer. How can we make the roads safer?

Remember these rules. In Great Britain traffic keeps to the left. Cars and buses and bikes must all keep to the left side of the roads. In most other countries traffic keeps to the right.

Before crossing the road, stop and look both ways. Look right, look left, look right again. Then, if you are sure that the road is clear, it is safe to cross the road. If you see small children or very old people, or blind people, waiting to cross the road, it is a kind act to help them to cross the road in safety.

We must teach our children to cross the road in safety. We must always give them a good example. Small children must not play in the street.
